Secret Agents, Spies & Saboteurs: Secret Missions Of The Second World War

Janusz Piekałkiewicz

From the spy that never was to a band of Nazi impostors, learn the stories boldest and most bizarre special operations carried out during World War II. In February 1944, resistance agents used explosives to sink a boat as it September 1943 rescue of Benito Mussolini—on a secret mission to wreak.